

Denise Clinton

Denise has a BA in English and Communications from Boston College. She is currently a Managing Editor at Aspen Publishing and has spent her career in the publishing arena. Her three sons, Aidan Wood ’16, Jared Wood ’18 and Ethan Wood ’22, all attended Waring. During those years Denise could always be found at her boys’ soccer and lacrosse games as well as their soirées and plays.

She loves to travel, read, bike, and hike, and likes a well-staged theatre production and cheesy Broadway tunes. She is a voracious consumer of local, national and global news, particularly concerning issues related to environmental justice and equitable social progress.

Caitlin Fawcett

Caitlin is Vice Chair of the Waring Board of Trustees. After graduating from Brown University with a degree in public health, she worked for a year as an AmeriCorps Fellow, designing and implementing projects to improve healthcare access for the working uninsured in Massachusetts. She went on to earn her MD at UMass Medical School, where she was involved in the Massachusetts Medical Society and served as Vice Chair of the student section.

Caitlin worked for 14 years as a primary care physician and taught resident physicians at Beth Israel Deaconess in Boston. After seeing her patients struggle to navigate the health care system, she joined ConsumerMedical (now Alight Solutions) in 2012 and started down the career path of Clinical Navigation.

Caitlin is the mother of three boys (Jack ’26, Rocco, and Jones ’31), which, she has determined, means her house will never actually be clean.

Liz Gibbons

Liz Gibbons joined the Waring Board of Trustees in 2023. She is an instructor at the FXB Center for Health and Human Rights at Harvard University, where she participates in FXB initiatives that leverage her expertise in advancing the human rights of children and adolescents. Previously, she led FXB's development of the cross-disciplinary child protection curriculum for Harvard graduate students, and an Executive Education course for child protection professionals.

Prior to her academic appointment at Harvard FXB, Liz enjoyed a lengthy career with the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF), during which she lived and worked in Togo, Kenya and Zimbabwe, and served as head of UNICEF's offices in Haiti and Guatemala, in addition to several New York headquarters postings.

A graduate of Smith College and Columbia University, Liz's association with Waring includes the 20 years her mother served on the judges' panel for the annual Concours de Poésie, and her son David's enrollment from 2010 to 2013.

Jonathan Grabowski

Jonathan is Chair of the Waring Board of Trustees. He holds B.S. degrees in Biology and Economics as well as a Ph.D. in Ecology, and is a professor at Northeastern University, where he studies fisheries and coastal habitat restoration.

His daughter, Gigi Grabowski, attended Waring from 2019 to 2023, and his family hosted a Waring international student who graduated in 2026. He has served as a Class Parent rep and was Parent Group Chair from 2022 to 2024. He enjoys gardening, biking, and cross-country skiing.

Cindy Keegan

Cindy has served on Waring's Board for about ten years, in roles such as leading the New Building Task Force and heading up the Buildings & Grounds Committee. She is an alumni parent of Collin '23.

Cindy is the Director of Environmental, Health and Safety and Facilities at Analogic. Her interests include sustainability, renewable energy, STEM education, robotics, and native food forest gardening.

Jan Lindsay

Jan has a BA in Experiential Education from Evergreen State College and is a nurse. The favorite part of her entire career was at Waring, first as Athletic Director in 2001 and then establishing the School Nurse position in 2008.

Her two children, Jack Lindsay ’05 and Barrie Lindsay ’07, graduated from Waring. Jan is a big fan of mountain biking and dogs.

Peter Pound

Peter, a father of four (two of whom are Waring graduates, Charlie Pound ’24 and Amelia Pound ’25), resides in Beverly with his wife Kerry. He is a partner in the securities enforcement and litigation practice at Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP, representing broker-dealers, financial services firms, and individuals in investigations and enforcement proceedings brought by the SEC, FINRA, and state regulators, and in arbitrations and civil litigation relating to securities issues.

Peter attended McGill University (BA, 1997), and holds a law degree from the University of Oxford (Wadham College, 1999) and common law (LL.B.) and civil law (B.C.L.) degrees from McGill Law (2001).

A wine enthusiast who enjoys playing squash, Peter serves on the Advancement Committee of the Building Minds Scholarship Fund for the Catholic Schools Foundation, volunteers as a track and field coach, and is the coordinator and lead instructor for Beverly Youth Hockey’s Learn-to-Skate program.

Juanita Prescod

Juanita holds a B.S. in Biology with a minor in Chemistry and an M.S. in Clinical Investigation. With over 20 years of experience in healthcare, she currently serves as an Infection Preventionist and sits on the Board of Directors of the New England Association for Healthcare Quality.

Juanita has been a dedicated member of Waring's Board of Trustees for eight years, including past leadership roles as Chair of both the Advisory Committee and the Diversity Committee. She is the proud mother of two sons, Keanu Prescod '22 and Teagan Prescod '27. Outside of her professional and volunteer work, Juanita enjoys sports, traveling, word and board games, and cherishes time spent with her family.

Jess Rose

Jess Rose ’02 has worked in public education for nearly 20 years at the school, district, and state level. Previously she was a middle and high school teacher and an Assistant Superintendent. Now she works for the Barr Foundation, leading a portfolio of grantmaking and supports to public high schools across New England that seek to transform themselves to be more excellent and equitable.

She earned a B.A. in Education Studies from Brown University, and an M.Ed. in Arts and Education and a Doctor of Education Leadership (Ed.L.D.) from the Harvard Graduate School of Education. Jess loves spending time with her husband and young daughter, hosting friends for dinner, and vegetable gardening, and is happiest when curled up on the couch under a blanket reading a book.

Todd Sewards

Todd, P ’27, is a Waring parent and Marblehead resident. A technology executive with experience across healthcare and technology, he has served as Chief Information Officer at PRISM Vision Group and American Dental Partners. His earlier career includes leadership roles at Aspen Technology, Tufts Health Plan, and Akamai Technologies.

Todd brings experience in strategic planning, financial stewardship, cybersecurity, and organizational governance to Waring’s Board of Trustees. He holds an MBA in Management Information Systems from Bentley University and a BS in Business Administration and Management Information Systems from Salem State University, where he graduated summa cum laude. He has also completed executive education programs in artificial intelligence and data monetization at MIT Sloan and earned Directorship Certification through the National Association of Corporate Directors.

Outside of work, Todd enjoys spending time with his daughter, Reagan, sharing their love of skiing, music, and boating.

Calli Towne

Calli has degrees from Kenyon College (BA, Psychology) and Northeastern University (MS, Human Resource Counseling). She spent 18 years working for the MSPCA in various roles including Volunteer Coordination, Community and Public Relations, Fundraising and Events, and lastly, creating a public-facing dog training program from the ground up. She has also worked for several healthcare institutions in Boston and locally.

Calli is the proud mom of Ari ’24 and Aren ’28, and served as Parent Co-Chair from 2021 to 2023. Outside of Waring and work, she enjoys outdoor activities from the mountains to the beach and doing K9 Nosework classes with her Beagle, Tuna.

I-Hwei Warner

I-Hwei Warner ’05 is a veteran, business leader, and Ipswich resident. As a former Army officer, he led soldiers in training exercises in the U.S. and during a deployment to the Middle East. After his service, he worked in financial services and went on to lead operations teams at an aerospace startup and a publicly traded cybersecurity company.

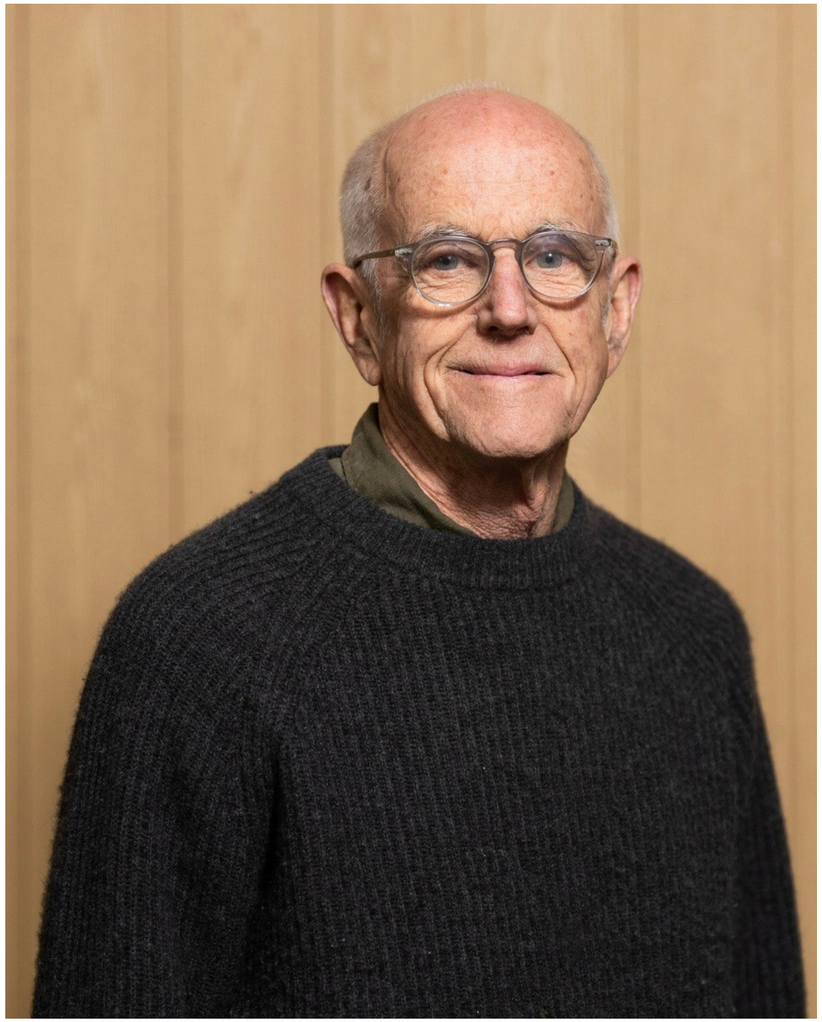

A 2005 Waring graduate, I-Hwei is also the older brother of Sarah Warner ’07. He holds a B.A. from Bates College and an M.B.A. from the Yale School of Management.

Ann Weeks

Ann Weeks, P ’14, is the mother of two former Waring students, Eleanor Lustig ’14 and James Lustig, who left Waring after Core and Group 1 in 2014 and graduated from Hamilton-Wenham Regional High School in 2018.

Ann holds engineering, public policy, and law degrees, and is currently of Counsel to the Clean Air Task Force, a non-profit climate and clean air organization. She serves on several boards and committees in her home community of Wenham and enjoys anything outdoors, including hiking, sculling and other activities on the water, and simply being in nature.

John Wigglesworth

John is a lifelong mariner and teacher. He taught math and science at Waring for many years and now serves on the Waring Board of Trustees as Treasurer and a member of the Financial Sustainability Committee.

He is the parent of Waring alumni Rosie Wigglesworth ’14 and Nick Wigglesworth ’16. John lives in Ipswich and continues to pursue an active lifestyle.
